ABOUT THE SAIFEE BURHANI UNIVERSITY

The Saifee Burhani University (SBU) is a not-for-profit institution whose programmes promote educational welfare in general, and the welfare of the people of Pakistan in particular.

It stands as a landmark initiative of the Dawoodi Bohra Community of Pakistan under the guidance of its Chancellor, His Holiness Dr Syedna Mufaddal Saifuddin, who has consistently advocated educational development in Pakistan and across the world. His patronage supports hundreds of community-administered schools across continents—initiatives that collectively embody his commitment to nurturing knowledge, character, and service to society.

National Recognition

His Excellency President Asif Ali Zardari recognised that this spirit, along with the community's intellectual resources, could contribute meaningfully to significant educational initiatives.

On several occasions, the Government of Pakistan encouraged the establishment of a university that would harness the potential of Pakistan's youth and support the country's progress.

A Legacy of Learning

SBU builds upon the community's longstanding heritage of academic, medical, and social initiatives in Pakistan—among them is the community's premier educational institute, Aljamea tus Saifiyah, the Saifee Zahabi Institute of Science & Technology, Saifee Hospital in District Central and Burhani Hospital in the old city area.

WHY CHOOSE THE SAIFEE BURHANI UNIVERSITY

Strategically located in North Nazimabad, Karachi, SBU benefits from being in Pakistan's foremost educational hub. The city's vibrant network of universities and research institutions creates a dynamic academic environment that fosters collaboration, innovation, and growth.

Within this context, SBU's campus stands in one of Karachi's most established residential and educational districts, combining accessibility with a rich intellectual and social setting. Students enjoy proximity to healthcare establishments alongside recreational and community facilities that support wellbeing, balance, and holistic development.

Clinical Integration with Saifee Hospital

SBU is uniquely positioned as an integrated academic division of Saifee Hospital, a well-established healthcare facility in Karachi. For our Doctor of Physical Therapy students, this integration is transformative for:

Immediate Hands-on Exposure

Students begin their clinical practice and rotations from the early years of the programme, moving seamlessly from lecture halls and labs directly into a live, patient-centered environment.

Inter-professional Learning

The hospital setting allows DPT students to work alongside doctors, nurses, and other allied health professionals, fostering critical teamwork and communication skills essential for modern healthcare.

Research Opportunities

The hospital serves as a rich environment for clinical data and patient interaction, providing the perfect platform for clinical research projects required in the DPT programme.

The university also carries forward the Dawoodi Bohra community's longstanding heritage of service and learning, embodied in institutions such as the Saifee Zahabi Institute of Science & Technology, Genetics Department and the School of Law in the University of Karachi, and the Saifee Burhani College of Nursing, which has grown to offer accredited programmes in nursing, expanded its clinical training facilities, and seen its graduates successfully placed in leading hospitals across Karachi.

Building on this foundation, SBU places research, clinical research, and innovation at the centre of its mission, seeking to generate new knowledge while delivering practical benefit to society.

Students at SBU therefore will find themselves in an environment where academic excellence is combined with social responsibility, where the traditions of learning are fused with the demands of modern education, and where their own growth is nurtured in a supportive academic community.

Healthcare and Hospitals

Within Karachi, the community's enduring commitment to health takes tangible form in its landmark institution, Saifee Hospital. The multi-speciality tertiary-care facility embodies a philosophy where faith and science come together in the service of humanity — as reflected in the Qur'anic verse:

وَإِذَا مَرَضْتُمْ فَهُوَ شَافِيكُمْ

“And when I fall sick, it is He (Allah Ta'ala) who cures me.”

Saifee Hospital offers comprehensive medical and surgical services under one roof. Its facilities include fully equipped wards, private and deluxe rooms, specialised ICUs, operating theatres, diagnostic and imaging departments, and 24-hour emergency and trauma care. Dedicated units in medicine, surgery, paediatrics, obstetrics and gynaecology, orthopaedics, and rehabilitation reflect its integrated approach to modern healthcare.

A new cardiac wing, equipped with advanced diagnostic and interventional technology, is underway — a major step towards enhancing cardiovascular treatment in Pakistan. The hospital also houses extensive laboratory and vaccination services, physiotherapy and rehabilitation suites, and supports preventive-health initiatives within the community.

As the principal teaching and training partner of The Saifee Burhani University, Saifee Hospital provides a living classroom where theory meets practice. Students gain direct experience in patient assessment, rehabilitation, and multidisciplinary teamwork, strengthening both their competence and compassion.

Together with Burhani Hospital in the old city — established under the same founding vision — Saifee Hospital stands as a testament to the community's mission to preserve, restore, and promote health, bringing modern medicine within reach of all.

WHY DOCTOR OF PHYSICAL THERAPY

Physiotherapy is one of the fastest-growing health professions, central to rehabilitation, wellness, and preventive care. A Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) degree equips graduates to restore movement, enhance quality of life, and play a vital role in improving public health.

At SBU, the DPT programme stands apart for its integration of academic excellence with practical training. Students gain a strong foundation in anatomy, physiology, and therapeutic sciences, while developing hands-on skills through rotations in ICU, NICU, outpatient, emergency, orthopaedics, neurology, paediatrics, and surgical departments.

The University's location places it in close proximity to Saifee Hospital, SBU's principal teaching and training partner, where students benefit from immediate exposure to diverse rehabilitation cases, high patient throughput, and mentorship by experienced healthcare professionals. Learning is further enriched by access to radiology, diagnostics, operation theatres, and rehabilitation centres, ensuring students experience the full spectrum of clinical practice.

Beyond technical competence, the DPT at SBU is deeply rooted in the ethos of empathy, integrity, and service. Students collaborate with nursing, medical, radiology, and surgical professionals, gaining interdisciplinary perspectives that strengthen both their practice and their professional values.

The programme also emphasises research and clinical research in rehabilitation sciences, encouraging inquiry, innovation, and evidence-based practice. With access to state-of-the-art facilities and a supportive academic environment, graduates are prepared not only to meet professional demands but also to contribute to advancing knowledge in their field.

By combining clinical excellence, ethical grounding, and community service, the DPT programme at SBU prepares graduates to serve both national and global healthcare needs while remaining firmly committed to society's wellbeing.

DAWOODI BOHRA HEALTHCARE NETWORK

Global Efforts through Project Rise & Institutional Health Initiatives

From Pakistan to Africa, Europe, and beyond, the Dawoodi Bohra community delivers healthcare through hospitals, medical camps, elderly support, and Project Rise initiatives — collaborating with local healthcare institutions, and combining compassion with modern care. The Saifee Burhani University (SBU) stands as an integral part of this network, advancing a sustainable approach to healthcare education and practice, dedicated to the betterment of society.

The community has built a substantial repository of healthcare professionals across the globe. The Saifee Burhani Medical Association America (SBMAA) alone brings together approximately 1,000 healthcare professionals across dozens of specialties, serving over 30 congregations in the United States and Canada.

The community-administered Saifee Hospital Tanzania is a modern multi-specialty tertiary care hospital in Dar es Salaam, providing accessible, affordable, and high-quality healthcare. The hospital has a proven record of successful public health initiatives — including a Diabetes Awareness & Prevention Camp and extensive cardiovascular and hypertension awareness drives.

Community doctors regularly organize medical camps; seen here is one of the medical camps organized in Mombasa for Kenya Police.

Breast Cancer awareness camp organized in Dubai in collaboration with the NMC Healthcare.

The community contributes charitably to multiple healthcare institutions worldwide. In Karachi, this commitment includes the recent upgrade of the Catheterization Lab at the Karachi Institute of Heart Diseases (KIHD), expanding access to advanced cardiac care.

Mental health awareness and specialized fitness programmes for the elderly are a norm within the community.

We understand the importance of healthcare professionals, and in particular the critical role of Physiotherapy in rehabilitation and overall wellbeing. By being part of this global network, SBU ensures that its academic mission is interwoven with community service, sustainability, and healthcare innovation — preparing graduates not only for professional excellence but also for the betterment of society.
